ABOUT ME

Rolande S. Sumner is a retired US Army veteran and the CEO & Founder of Life After Service Transitional Coaching LLC®. Since retirement from the military, Rolande has gained several coaching certifications and credentials, including Associate Certified Coach (ACC) via the International Coaching Federation, as well as being an Amazon Best Selling Author, 2022 Crea recipient, and two times winner of Alignable Local Business of the year.

Rolande assists organizations as they learn and implement new strategies to retain their veteran talent. Her objective is to enhance organizational readiness and retention by quickly and efficiently integrating veteran new hires into the workplace.

66 TESTIMONIAL

"At Life After Service Transitional Coaching, our mission is to improve veteran employee engagement and performance in the workplace. We provide effective coaching and consulting services to veteran friendly employers to help them create a workplace environment that is supportive of the unique needs of veteran employees."

- Paula Parnigian, Manager of Diversity and Inclusion, Eversource

She talks to the {staff} about respect, adversity, truthfulness, self-help, and dignity among other things. She lets the {staff} know that {their profession} is not easy; that you have challenges daily, and then gives them coping strategies to deal with the situations. Through a message of love, she brings confidence to all of them. Her presentation is high energy and full of crowd participation."
